

Report date:

MUSIC THERAPY EQUIPMENT REPORT

Client Details

Name:

DOB:

NDIS#:

Address:

Background and Goals

NDIS goals that are currently being addressed in music therapy include:

- 1.
- 2.
- 3.
- 4.
- 5.

Equipment Needs

Due to the recent outbreak of COVID-19 and associated safety requirements, the family has had to stop face-to-face music therapy and transition to sessions delivered via Telehealth. At the current time, sessions will continue in this format until further notice.

The table on the following page outlines key equipment items needed to support the continuation of X's current music therapy program.

Contact:

Email: thehillsmusictherapy@gmail.com

Phone: 0422 929 143

© The Hills Music Therapy

The Hills Music Therapy

Equipment item	Cost (including postage)	Reason
Blue Snowball ICE USB Microphone	$93 (JB Hi-Fi)	Telehealth service requires a microphone for client communication and instrument play
XCD Bluetooth Karaoke Microphone	$57 (JB Hi-Fi)	Microphone for singing activities to replace the microphone previously provided by the music therapist (NDIS Goal 2, 4)
Ultimate Ears BOOM 3 Portable Bluetooth Speaker	$154 (JB Hi-Fi)	Speaker with good sound quality for listening activities, equivalent to that previously provided by the music therapist (NDIS Goal 1, 2, 4)
Casio LK135 Keyboard	$208 (JB Hi-Fi)	Keyboard for learning piano skills, as per the one provided by the music therapist (NDIS Goal 5)
Kala Makala Classic MK-S Soprano Ukulele	$79 (Manny's Music)	A Uke can be used as a small, affordable, and easy to play substitute for the guitars previously provided by the music therapist (NDIS Goal 5)
Optimum 8 Note Desk Bells - Colour-coded	$110 (Optimum Percussion)	Desk bells (previously provided by music therapist) are an engaging and accessible way for X to make music and learn music theory (NDIS Goal 3, 5)

TOTAL COST: $701

Regards,

Max Schollar-Root
Registered Music Therapist
B.A.Mus (Hons); M.M.T.

Contact:

Email: thehillsmusictherapy@gmail.com

Phone: 0422 929 143

© The Hills Music Therapy